

Gifts Campaign Launched!

President Urges Alumni Participation

VERY REV. RAPHAEL GROSS, C.P.P.S.
President, Saint Joseph's College

With its Diamond Jubilee as an institution less than two years away, Saint Joseph's College has announced a Jubilee campaign, to be conducted among its alumni, parents of present and past students, and friends, for funds to complete and furnish buildings now under construction on the campus. In all its three-quarter century, with one small exception, the College has not asked for support for capital projects. The College has been built almost entirely by the Fathers of the Precious Blood from their careful economics and savings.

In announcing the campaign, Father Gross has pointed out that the present building program, including the new Faculty Residence and the Halleck Student Center, (pictures page 3), is costing the College $2,200,000, of which $1,700,000 is in the form of a long-term, low interest construction loan from the Federal Government. To meet its share of the commitment, the College must raise an estimated $400,000 by July 1 — which will virtually complete the construction costs. However, an additional $200,000 must be raised to furnish these new buildings.

"All colleges and universities today," said Father Gross, "are feeling the pressure caused by the increased demands for a college education. In the past ten years the enrollment at Saint Joseph's has more than doubled; there are now nearly 1,100 students on the campus at Rensselaer, and over 600 at the Calumet Center in East Chicago. In responding to these pressures," he continued, "the College must turn for the first time to sources other than the Society of the Precious Blood for aid in making the fulfillment of its mission possible. Never again will our College have so dramatic an opportunity for growth as this Diamond Jubilee Anniversary affords."

Other building projects are planned for the future, and will be undertaken on a schedule which has already been worked out. Space freed by the two new buildings will serve many necessary and useful purposes. A Humanities Center is being planned for the north wing of the Library; space freed on the second and third floors of the administration building by the construction of the new Faculty Residence will be converted into much needed additional classrooms and lecture halls. And when the Halleck Student Center is completed, Raleigh Hall, which currently houses student recreational activities and a snack bar, will be converted into a music and fine arts center.

"Many people," said Father Gross, "and many groups of people will be asked, for the first time, to provide major financial underwriting of the great mission of Saint Joseph's College — to provide Christian higher education of quality to more young Americans."

Saint Joe alumni, nationwide, are being asked to play their part in this capital campaign, which will extend over a three-year period. In many cities and towns alumni groups have already been formed, and plans laid for systematic solicitation of their fellow alumni. Such groups are already active in Chicago; Lake County, Indiana; Cincinnati; Cleveland; Columbus; Dayton; Evansville, Jasper; Fort Wayne; Louisville; Detroit; Saint Louis; Mercer County; and in Lima, Delphos and Tiffin. Accounts of some of the alumni gatherings in these areas will be found elsewhere in this issue of Contact. In all areas where it is possible, the campaign will be conducted on a person-to-person basis, with each "salesman" being asked to call on no more than five fellow alumni. While no formal goal has been set, it has been estimated, on the basis of annual giving over recent years, that alumni contributions over the period 1962 through 1964 could top $100,000.

Under the leadership of the National Parents' Board, the parents of Saint Joe students, past and present, will be invited to take a hand in the game. "No student at most colleges," pointed out Father John M. Lefko, C.P.P.S., director of development, "ever meets the full cost of his education, and many have profited from generous scholarships." The warm enthusiasm of parents has been expressed in many ways, and their hearty support is being sought at this time.

The Fellows' Program, which is a long-term sustaining effort, is being inaugurated on May 16, as mentioned elsewhere in this issue, and holds great promise for the future. And finally, contributions are being sought from selected corporations and from charitable foundations, many of them for specific projects. There are many opportunities for personal memorials in the new buildings under construction, and these are described in detail in the brochure describing the program, which will be mailed out in late April and early May to alumni, parents and friends.

Lake County Chapter Told of College Needs

The Panel Room of Saint John's Church, Whiting, Indiana, was the scene on March 28, 1962 of a dinner meeting for Saint Joseph's College Alumni residing in the Lake County, Indiana, area. The Very Rev. Raphael Gross, C.P.P.S., President of Saint Joseph's presided at the meeting and delivered the address of the evening. He spoke of the need for expansion and improvement in educational facilities on the college level to meet the vast numbers of students entering this level within the next ten years. He stated that Saint Joseph's cannot stand still but must progress commensurate with this demand. Father Gross spoke of the launching of a Capital Gifts Campaign for Saint Joseph's in commemoration of the College's Seventy-five years — a Diamond Jubilee Capital Gifts Campaign for the purpose of raising funds to meet the cost of construction of the Halleck Student Center and the Community residence, both now under construction on campus. He appealed to alumni and friends to share the burden of this task by becoming workers for a greater Saint Joseph's College.

Representing the College, in addition to Father Gross, were Fathers Lefko, and Ballman, Mr. Joseph Albers, '50

Dear Alumni Director:

Just read your column "Alumni Quickies" and thought you might like some more copy, as follows:

Emanuel M. Cannonito recently resigned as a criminal prosecutor of the Cook County State's Attorney's staff in Chicago, Illinois in order to resume his duties in private practice in Blue Island, Illinois where he was just elected to a three year term as a Director of the Chamber of Commerce. At present he is also a candidate for the degree of Master of Laws at the Lawyers Institute, John Marshall Law School, in June, 1962. He received his Doctor of Jurisprudence Degree from the Law School at DePaul University, 1957.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:

It is with deep regret that I write to you of the death of my beloved husband, Robert P. Alcorn X'40. He passed away, February 20, 1962, a very peaceful death as I was reading his evening prayers to him out of his St. Joseph's Missal. Internment was in Holy Cuaso Cemetery, Precious Blood Section, Inglewood, California. His Requiem Solemn High Mass was held at St. Anne's Church, Santa Monica and our three sons, Robert, Michael, and Dan served the Mass — they have been altar boys for three years and their dad often told them of his very happy two years at St. Joseph's College.

For three years, he fought an unusually brave battle with lung cancer.

For the past fifteen years he had been with the Army Armmandance District, as Missile Engineer and at the time of accepting a Disability Retirement, due to the lung cancer, was Army Guided Missile Representative at Douglas Aircraft, Santa Monica, California.

Each month, Bob looked forward to his edition of the Contact and I will miss it, also. Even our six children enjoy it — three boys and three girls. Our oldest daughter is married and we were blessed with two dear grandchildren.

It seems like yesterday I was writing to Bob while at St. Joseph's.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Robert P. Alcorn

Msgr. Hughes Lectures Here

Monsignor Philip Hughes, author and professor of Reformation history at the University of Notre Dame, spoke to the students at St. Joseph's on March 13. His appearance was part of the visiting author program this year by Father John Klopke, C.P.P.S., assistant professor of philosophy at St. Joseph's.

Monsignor Hughes spoke on "Was the Reformation Inevitable?" in the College auditorium and later in the evening presided over a discussion of his book, "A Popular History of the Reformation," published in 1957. He was also author of "Pope Pius XI," "The Faith in Practice," and a three-volume history, "The Reformation in England."

Monsignor Hughes is an English priest who was graduated from the Seminary of Leeds in 1920. In the following year he studied at Louvain, Belgium, where he became a member of the Seminar Historique and received his Licentiate in moral sciences and history

He spent the next two years doing research in Rome under the direction of his Eminence Cardinal Gasquet, O.S.B., Vatican archivist and author of many well-known works in English ecclesiastical history. After this he held the position of lecturer at the college of St. Thomas in St. Paul, Minnesota, and, from 1934 through 1943, was archivist of Westminster.

Monsignor Hughes holds honorary degrees from a number of American universities and from Louvain. He has been at Notre Dame since 1955.

His book that was discussed, "A Popular History of the Reformation," was called by the Catholic World "a swiftly moving, easily read story of how that upheaval which so changed the complexion of mankind came to pass. Fascinating, too, are his pen portraits of the great actors of the drama: Luther, Erasmus, Calvin."

Team Completes Spring Session

The St. Joseph's College football Pumas climaxed their one-month spring drill session Saturday, March 31 on St. Joseph's field with an intersquad game which ended in a 6-6 tie.

"I was very pleased with the play," commented head coach, Ed Dwyer following the game. "The hitting was hard and sharp, the defense looked good considering the relative shortage of time we worked on it, and the passing appeared much improved over last fall."

Dwyer also expressed pleasure with the ball control ability exhibited by both units and the evenness of the game, which is reflected in the statistics. The White netted 258 total yards and 16 first downs while the Reds totaled 234 yards and 13 first downs.

"I was glad to see that both units gained over 200 yards," added Dwyer. "The veterans played very well and the freshmen looked surprisingly good."

Open Season, Dump Cincy

With a strong pitching staff and a few lettermen to back it up, the '62 Pumas are looking forward to a relatively good baseball season. Coach Don Merki, in his first year as head baseball coach, is presently working on the team's batting which seems to be its weak point this year.

The squad opened their season on Thursday, April 5, against Cincinnati by taking both games of a double header. In the first game the Pumas took a 4-0 lead in the fourth inning and then Cincinnati scored twice in the seventh and once in the ninth ending the game, 4-3.

Letterman Art Voellinger pitched all nine innings for the St. Joe squad giving up six hits, and Sophomore Joe Piccirilli led the offense with 1 for 2 and 2 RBI's.

In the second game the Joemen opened with a strong four run lead in the first, picked up another in the second, two more in the fourth and ended their scoring with a run in the seventh. Cincinnati picked up two in the sixth leaving the final score at 8-2.

Junior Tony Pacenti and Sophomore Bob Marx combined efforts in pitching and gave up a total of five hits. Pacenti was given the win.

Sophomore George Post lead the offensive columns for the game with 4 hits for 5 at bats, 2 runs and 1 RBI. In total offense the team batted .400.

In their second outing the Pumas lost a double header to DePauw. The four Puma pitchers gave up

In an early practice session a Puma cuts back at the cold March wind.

16 runs on 17 hits in the first game while the DePauw team held the Joemen to 1 run on 5 hits. In the second game statistics evened out as DePauw recorded 1 run on 5 hits and the Pumas 0 on 4.

On April 11, the St. Joe team was dumped in a double header by the Ball State Cardinals, 5-3 and 5-2. Statistics for the game are unavailable as we go to press.

Gleemen Present Easter Program

The "Singing Seventeen" of St. Joseph's College presented a special televised Lenten program on Sunday, April 15, in Champaign, Illinois. The program, entitled "The Passion of Christ," appeared on Station WCIA (Channel 3) from 11:00 to 11:30 a.m. (cst.).

The Gospel story of Christ's Passion as recorded by St. Matthew was presented in song. The musical adaptation for chorus and soloist had been made by Father Lawrence Heiman, C.P.P.S., chairman of the music department at St. Joseph's and director of the glee club, from which the "Singing Seventeen" is selected each year for special performances.

The musical adaptations were based on chant melodies and 19th century figured music.

Soloists in "The Passion of Christ" were Father Raymond Cera, C.P.P.S., chairman of the department of foreign languages at St. Joseph's, Father George Lubeley, C.P.P.S., assistant professor of religion, and junior Don Hoffman, a pre-medical student from Champaign and president of the glee club.

Father Edwin Kaiser, C.P.P.S., professor of religion, was the script writer for the program. The director was Ed Mason of station WICA and musical director was Father Heiman.

Next on the schedule of glee performances is the popular Spring Choral Festival which will be held on campus, May 5, at 7:30 P.M.
